Are You Stylistic Or Inelegant?

The 1977 Mount Vernon Spring Fashion Show with Miss Helen Haskett and her Fashion Merchandising classes in cooperation with Garfinckel's, modeled the season's latest fashions. The styles ranged from sun-in-the-fun slip ons to dazzling prom attire. The excitement of summer was pre-viewed with new looks in beachwear and sport casuals. It was an entertaining evening for the audience as well as giving an insight to the new line of Spring and Summer fashions.

Closer To You

Redemption and Tahoka were the two bands enjoyed at the Junior - Senior Prom. The dance was held at the International Inn in Washington, D.C., where excitement filled the air as Eileen Moore was announced Prom Queen of 1977. Bumping and hustling to the disco music were students and chaperones alike. After the last sentimental slow dance, everyone sighed and pronounced it had been a beautiful event.

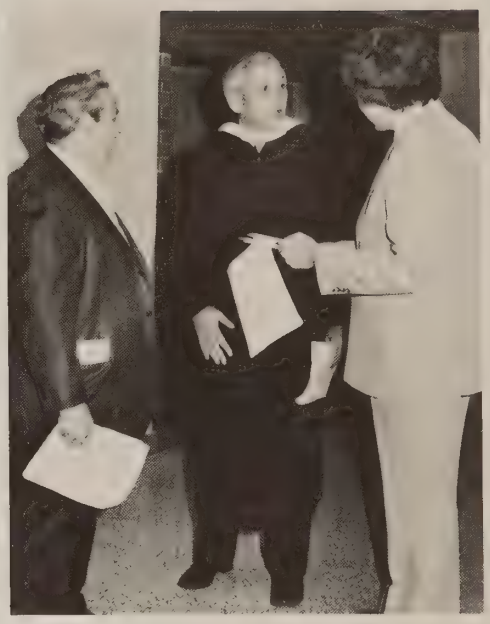
Performing Arts Says "Hello, Dolly."

Spring of 1977 was an exciting and memorable year for the Mt. Vernon Performing Arts Department. Three new experiments turned into overnight successes. The newly-formed mime troupe was well received in its performances and won many awards and honors for a truly intriguing and beautiful display of body movements. The second production was Little Nell The Orphan Girl, written by, directed by, and starring Terry Colley. It was a class melodrama with a terrifying villain and a courageous heroine. Finally, the big event last year was the major production of Hello Dolly. Combined efforts of the chorus, band and drama departments made the musical a glorious success. The stars, Kevin Dilallo and Alison Wood were impeccable in their roles and the crew, background, props and costume people behind the scenes made the spectacular appearance possible.

The Eagle Has Left Its Nest

"A young bird — say, an eagle, with its nest built at the pinnacle of a high, rocky mesa — might feel the same as many of us do, as he looks over the edge of his nest and we look toward the future. The bird may look down at the distant jagged rocks and shudder with fear, anticipating an inability to fly, and the drastic consequences of any possible in - flight malfunction. And after looking down, he may turn his head and look up, now thinking of the glory of soaring above the clouds. We, like the bird, are aware of some of the obstacles with which we may be faced, and we know that there may be many others that we cannot now fathom. Also like the bird, we foresee unmeasurable heights of success and happiness to be reached. The bird in my metaphor, as he looked down, could see the limit of any possible disaster he might encounter, but as he looked up, he was overwhelmed, unable to see a limit to the altitudes he could conquer. We, too, are unable to foresee a limit to the success and happiness we may achieve. Who knows? There may not be such a limit."

Kevin Scott Dilallo



They were our competitors, our advisers, our teachers, but most of all, they were our friends and this was their day. It was the day the seniors had been looking forward to for four long years. These years were filled with ups and downs, with sports and dances, with friends and enemies. Kevin Dilallo, senior class president, represented the class with a moving speech which expressed the class's feelings about the time they had spent at Mt. Vernon High.

Sophomore Class Float

On October 17, the 1977 Homecoming week was finally upon Mt. Vernon. This year's theme was "Storybook Land" which was successfully executed throughout various class skits, floats and cafeteria decorations.

As the end of the week drew near, it was with an unanimous vote that the sophomores won the cafeteria decorations with their colorful mural of "The Wizard of Oz." At the annual pep rally, the juniors won the skit competition with a comical rendition of "Hansel and Gretel." As the excitement mounted during the big game against T.C. Williams, Patti Denzer was announced Homecoming Queen by Shannon Coleman, last year's queen. The festivities included the parade of floats. The juniors won with their "Gingerbread House" float from Hansel and Gretel.

Keyettes Help With Last Minute Shopping

Christmas festivities were on the minds of the Keyettes as they bustled about, getting ready for the annual Keyette Christmas bazaar. The home-made toys and household needs were great for the little kids with little budgets. For others, there was a chance to win a cake in the cake walk. Santa Claus, (was it really him?), was seen wandering around asking kids, students and even parents what they wanted for Christmas. It's nice to know there's still some nice, inexpensive places to do last minute Christmas shopping.

'Tis The Season To Be Jolly

The Choral Department rings in another holiday season with their traditional Chrismas concert. One of the highlights was a visit from Santa which was enjoyed by the young as well as the young at heart. As in the past years, the entire concert was enjoyed by all. The grand finale consisted of the groups joining together in singing "White Christmas" and their traditional "Hallelujah Chorus". The senior class sponsored the class fund raising project of selling candy canes during lunch to be passed out on the day before vacation. As usual, the project was a big success.

Ten Seniors Who Have Reached The Top

Who can rightly claim the title of "bookworm", "brain" or any other nickname given to people with good grades? After four long, hard-working years the ten seniors with the highest class averages can relax. They have finally earned the honor of being the "Top Ten" in their class. It may not seem to be very important to some, but to those who supported and urged these people to succeed, it is a triumph. These achievers deserve congratulations on their work done and the best of luck in their future challenges.

A Night Of Criminal Offense

Where do you find a stately grandmother who believes flowers grow in pure lime, her granddaughter, Laurel, who has a runaway mother, a spinster governess who doesn't like to talk about murder cases, and a butler who had a five year prison sentence? Where else but the latest production from the Dramatic Arts department, The Chalk Garden. The play was presented on Friday, February 17 and Saturday, February 18. Despite competition with the basketball game and other various activities, it was a profitable success. Director, A. Lee Pauley seemed pleased with the outcome of the many hours of hard work put into the production. Most of all, the audience enjoyed a night of comedy and wit.

Buon Apetito Con Las Keyettes

One place to find wine, women and song a-plenty, is the annual Keyette Spaghetti dinner. While seated at a table for two with candlelight and soft music, a smiling waitress fills your order promptly and abundantly. For a very small fee, the savory spaghetti, well-dressed with enticing spices, italien bread, salad and choice of beverage are great for the guys with small pockets who want to take their girls to dinner or families with many mouths to feed. So, to all those who partake in this food of paradise- "Buon Apetito!!"

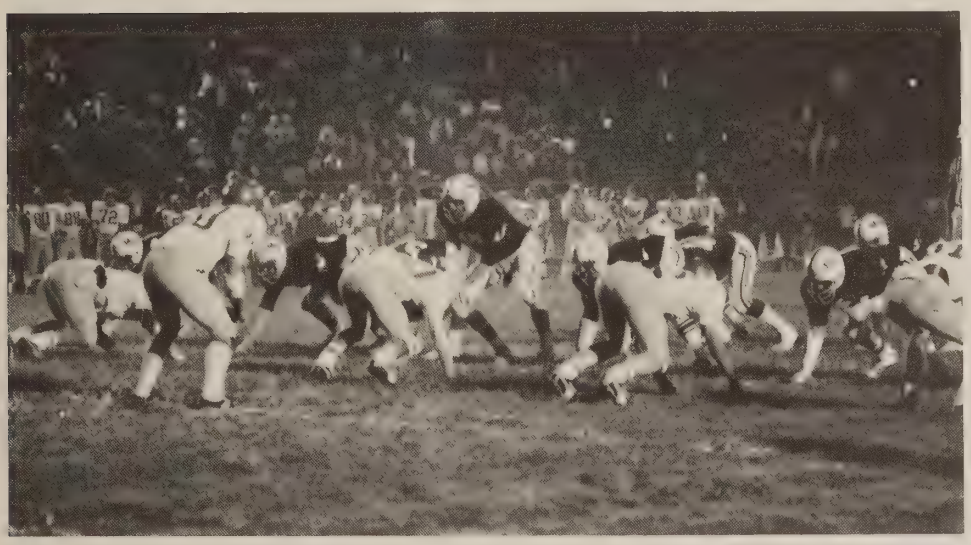
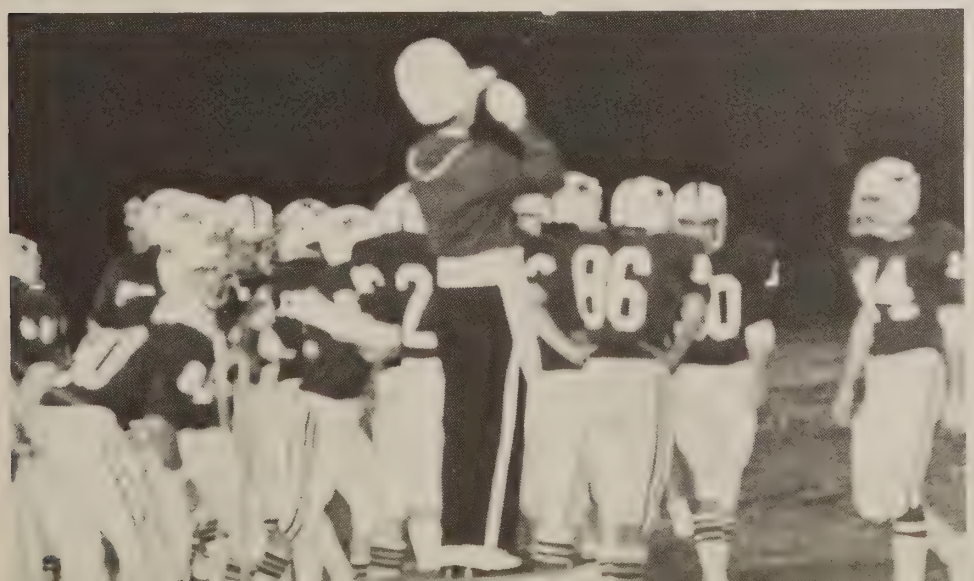
We Are Number One!





The Varsity Football team turned itself completely around from a losing ball club into a fantastic football machine, who had 10 of its players make either the All-District or All-Region Teams. They not only turned in an 8-2 record but also went undefeated in district play and clinched their first championship in 10 years.

The team started its season with a victory over Herndon and continued on a five game winning streak, but the unspoken dream of an undefeated season was soon shattered with a disappointing loss to Robinson. The team played its remaining four games and won three of them, losing only to T.C. Williams. The team lost to Robinson 12-10 in Regional play.

The major highlight of the season, besides the thrill of having made it to regionals, was in the MV vs. Lee game. With MV trailing 13-8 and 5:32 left to play, safety Bill Davis recovered a fumble and ran 65 yards for a TD., giving the majors a dramatic 14-13 victory.

A new school, new teachers, a new experience—these are all part of a freshman's life. Filled with spirit, the class of '81 attended pep rallies and various athletic activities as they competed for the pep jug. Homecoming festivities were one of their new experiences. Creating a skit, painting a wall decoration, and building a float took up much of their time. With the help of their sponsor, Miss Johnson, the freshmen have remained united through the good times and the bad. As they leave another year behind, full of new experiences and new friends they are forever looking into the future and ambitiously dreaming of the years to come.

It was the first day of school,
As I looked left and right,
And saw all those people around me,
Whose heads seemed out of sight.

I pondered this a moment,
And then went on my way,
Thinking of where I was going,
And if I had to stay.

I thought of making a run for it,
But I couldn't 'cuz I froze,
I thought of yelling for help,
But, you know how it goes . . .

And then I looked around me,
My friends were doing okay,
They were looking for their classes
And making it through the day.

So I gathered all my courage,
I heaved a great big breath,
And knew high school'd be my life,
If it wasn't the cause of my death.

Together for a lifetime or at least it seems and then, without further adieu we part. Our paths separate, often rough, stray from their beginnings and if by chance we meet; perhaps; a glance, a spark of remembrance but we continue on. How sad in thought and sadder in reality to part as we must and forget as we do. The light of youth grows dim and the fire it encouraged simmers; we grow and the joys we knew are only visions in our minds. How sad and true it is.

Mt. Vernon Marching Majors

"We are the champions!" The shouts and cheers, laughter, embraces, and tears will long be remembered by the one-hundred forty drill team, flag corp, rifle and band members of the Mount Vernon Marching Majors. Under the direction of James Dash, the Majors traveled to Nashville, Tennessee in October to become the first place winners in the first annual Opryland Marching Band Competition. The Majors were presented with a first place trophy and a certificate at a dance held in Opryland Amusement Park where they were again recognized when two band members, Becky Burney and Doug Dunlap, won first place in the dance contest.

It all started with the populated halls of anxiously awaiting students marking the beginning of the marching season when try-outs were held in March, selecting only a small percentage of all who tried out for a position in the auxilary units of the Marching Majors. Once selected, the newly formed group attended several activities from June to August to concentrate, work together, march, and finally, perform as a unit, the marching Majors attended band camp for two weeks and practiced daily once school began.

Continually raising money in order to sponsor trips and purchase uniforms, the Majors sold candy bars, key chains, raffled off Redskin tickets, opened a snack bar on holidays, and had a very successful Christmas Canvass due to the effort of all parents in the Mount Vernon Band Boosters.

Preceeding their trip to Tennessee, the Majors were host at the Mount Vernon Invitational Marching Band Classic, which is becoming one of the most prestigious competitions on the East Coast, hosting marching bands from several states. In keeping with their busy schedule, the Majors traveled to Richmond to perform in Virginia's State Fair.

In spite of all rehearsals, competitions, and trips, the Majors remained faithful to the football team as they attended home and away games entertaining each audience with their pregame and half-time shows. As the football season changed to basketball, the Majors moved from under the stadium lights to the gymnasium as they cheered the team on to victory with their winning spirit and half-time performances. The auxilary units performed often at the pep rallies to the beat of the band, also.

With the new year off to a great start, the Marching Majors once again traveled to Richmond officially representing Northern Virginia in Governor Dalton's Inaugural Parade on the fourteenth of January. With the coming of Spring, the Marching Majors had a traditional look about them with their new colonial uniforms and tri-cornered hats.

The whole year passed quickly before them as the Majors recalled all of their new friendships, rehearsals, trips, and victorious competitions at their annual band banquet where they proudly ended a very successful year!

Symphonic Band/Orchestra

The Mount Vernon Bands have been involved in numerous activities throughout the year. The Pep Band cheered the basketball team on to many victories during the season, while the Concert Band and Orchestra performed many exciting concerts. In addition to the Fall and Spring concerts the Symphonic and Stage Bands performed in various states, such as New York and Maryland. One of the major highlights was a trip to Niagra Falls in Quebec, Canada, for a finale performance. The Mount Vernon Bands are fine musical groups and all are credits to the community they represent.

Also, several members attended the VA State Conference, held in Christiansburg, Virginia, where Andrea Iaderosa was elected State Vice President. Other activities included the selling of maroon and white hats and the sponsoring of the annual variety show. Another major activity attended by the Thespians was the biannual International Thespian Conference which was held at Ball State University in Munice, Indiana. This year, the society was invited to perform a 30 minute skit which was done in the Play Marathon. An honor well deserved, Troupe 1779 won great recognition for its outstanding performance.

Producing a yearbook requires an expanse of meaningful ideas, organization, and patience. Working to attain the qualities of an impressive and notable yearbook was the major goal of this year's staff. Students learned to cooperate and work together in the meeting of deadlines, the writing of copy, and the organization of layout sheets. "Yearbook" or Journalism II was again offered as an elective course or as an alternative course for fourth year English. Willingly students participated in fund raising activities including a campaign for patrons, an advertisements drive and a dance to meet the ever rising expenses of printing the yearbook and of photography.

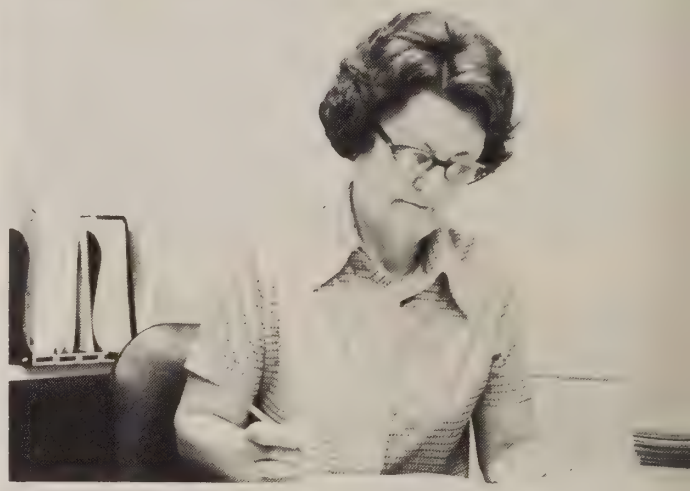
In Appreciation . . .

. . . To Miss Lucy Lowman. Ever since her arrival here at MVHS in 1944, she has been a guiding light to the business department. Starting with almost nothing, she has molded the MVHS business department into an entergetic and hard working department. She has instituted new courses designed for the business career oriented student. Miss Lowman also established work programs to further on the job training. Thank you and best wishes Miss Lowman.



. . . And to Miss Polly Waid. Starting fresh out of college in 1945, her first job was that of a P.E. teacher here at MVHS. After many years of playing ball, archery, volleyball, hockey and several other activities, she turned to the fun things of counseling. These "fun" things included listening to complaints, rearranging schedules, and other problems that a student might encounter. She has worked hard and because of her dedication, Miss Waid has become one of the best guidance counselor's that a student could ask for. Thank you and good luck Miss Waid.

English Teachers Stress Basic Skills

This year, all students of MVHS have been reliving their elementary school days in English. Teacher's were required to put an emphasis on the basic skill of English: spelling, grammer, error-free compositions, and many other tedious but helpful subjects. Also an emphasis was put on literature on the English I level. Although it seemed wasteful, this "new work" was helpful.

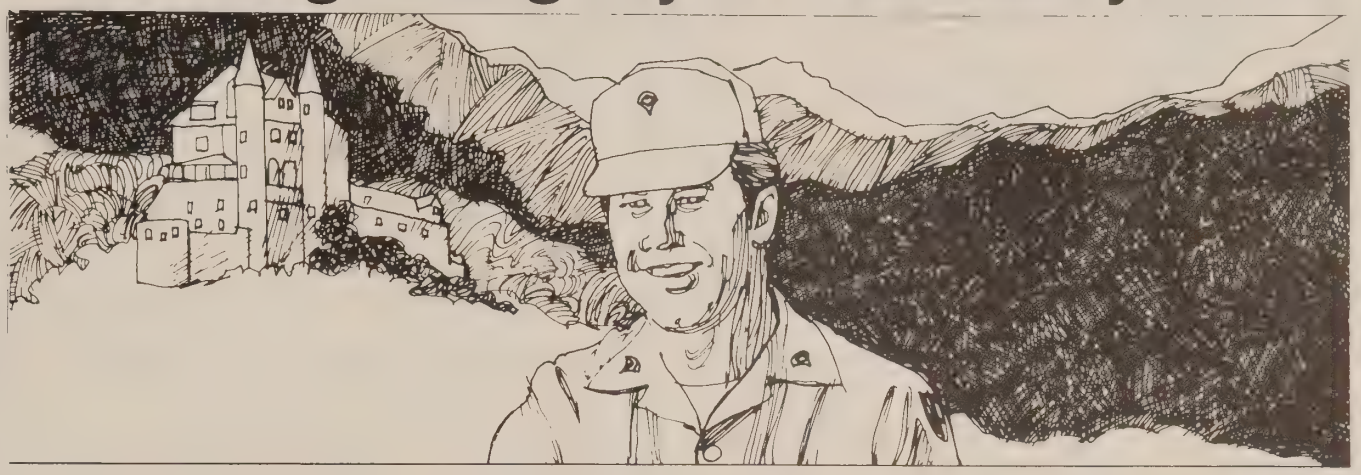
MEN—WOMEN

You can go a long way in a few short years.



When you sign up for the Army today, you can also sign up for Europe. It may not be the easiest way to see the world, but it could be the most rewarding.

You'll be there to do a job. You'll soldier. Bivouac in the mud of Grafenwoehr's rainy season, squint into an early August sun in the valley of the Rhine, and fight the chilly January winds of Hohenfels.

And just about the time you wish you had never left the States, you'll be celebrating the Oktoberfest in Munich, eating bratwurst in Frankfurt, or learning the slopes of Garmisch. And all the tough work will have been worth it.

We're in the neighborhood.

We at McDonald's didn't get to be America's largest chain of family restaurants just by serving good hamburgers.

Sure, we have good food. Fast service. And fair prices. But we're also proud of the other ways we've built our reputation.

Community involvement is one way. The people at your local McDonald's feel that they're part of the community, and that, as a part of the community, McDonald's has a responsibility to that community. At McDonald's we're involved.

McDonald's

More than just a restaurant in the neighborhood . . . . A part of the community.
